Power Connectors

Equipment Shelves

Whether you are looking for a vehicle for bomb squad, drug interdiction, SWAT, mobile laboratory, incident command, dive rescue or any other type of emergency response, Ferrara has the experience you can count on to build the vehicle you need.

Command Center

Camera

Ferrara Incident Command Centers are available in both truck and trailer configurations. Design your incident command unit with isolated conference rooms, multiple work stations, interior and exterior briefing areas and the latest technology you need to be more effective during an emergency.

Truck bodies are custom built to the length you need, while trailers are available up to 53' in length. A combination of interior and exterior compartments are always available, let us know what will fit your needs.

Workstations

Multiple workstations, equipped with 12 volt and 120 volt power, telephone, RG6 and CAT6 connections are designed to your requirements.

Communications

Getting information to personnel in the field and between agencies is critical to your mission. Ferrara's specialist can design a communication center to fit your needs.

Media Center

From cutting edge smart screens to wireless internet, make use of the latest technologies, allowing you to process information faster and more accurately.

Slide out modules, such as those shown here, greatly expand your work area and capabilities.

Bomb Squad

Ferrara's bomb squad trucks are individually designed to meet your team's requirements for scene control, explosives management and evidence collection. Upgrade your truck to include TCVs for detonation, bomb retrieval robots and surveillance systems with incident recording devices.

SWAT

Use the relative quiet of the SWAT truck's interior for planning on the way to a scene, carry the weapons and equipment you will need and then use the same area for initial debriefing or witness interviews after the area is secured.

Narcotics

If your agency is having to deal with the dangerous environments of meth labs or other drug factories, Ferrara's mobile drug enforcement vehicle is what you need. With plenty of interior work space and exterior storage, this truck has the tools you need to get the job done.

Rehabilitation

Functioning as a dual purpose vehicle, the rehabilitation truck has interior conference/work areas and an oversized air conditioning system to get your personnel out of the heat during an extended incident response.
